CARNIVAL.

In no part of Europe, and we believe in no part of the world, does the Carnival season so absorb the public mind as in Buenos Aires.

They have taken the windows out of the shops.

They have widened the street doors.

They have shelved up half built "tiendas."

They have piled up box upon box to catch the eye.

They have stripped the richest shop windows.

They have platformed the most grotesque dominoes, the most hideous masks.

They have overwhelmed us with "pomos" and masks, and one can read in the pomotized 'tienda' windows, shop doors, shop 'veredas,' and shop shelves, the wild intoxication of a three days' amusement which savours far more of the licentious feasts of the ancients than of the humanizing Christian recreation of the church fetes of Carnival.

There is something so truly astonishing in the generality of this Carnival extravagance, Carnival sport and Carnival trade, that one naturally seeks to discover in the character of the people the secret spring from which such a general unmooring of society flows. Were the public of Buenos severely religious or puritan in customs, we should attribute the mad frolics of Carnival to reaction; but the very contrary is the fact; men in Buenos Aires, as a rule, are less religious than in Europe, and religion in Buenos Aires has far more to apprehend from indifference than from fanaticism.

For the last week the whole city at night time has been rendered hideous with the discordant practising of the wretched "comparsa" bands. In every parish, almost in every square, these "comparsas" have secured rooms wherein to meet, to talk, to smoke, and to blow Kent bugles and cracked trombones. Worse than over the ear-splitting tramway horns are these neophyte Carnival musicians, yet we all tolerate them, we all grin, and declare them and ing that we have a Carnival. Buenos Aires, Manchester, not Plaza Constitution. We may be excused for say-have been going on in town for the last month; and although the matrons and respectable ladies of the city do not frequent them, still none dare say a word against them, since they are grown in the grain; and to night the ladies themselves, members of our best families, have their own mask balls at the fashionable clubs, or family mansions where receptions are given.

The Corso is perhaps the most innocent feature of the 3 days' Saturnalia, yet is it expensive beyond our means and corroding as to morals. It is impossible that in a city of 300,000 inhabitants there is not to be found one deep thinker who can define the cause which makes a people so habitually sober and so steady as the public of this city, fling themselves so heart and soul into amusements so dissolving. We advance the theory that our climate and our food are the sustaining elements of the Carnival, and its extravagant licentiousness, and that in B. Aires youth and its follies hold greater supremacy than in the greatest capitals of Europe.

DR. ZORRILLA'S RETURN.

Yesterday the President's Secretary, Dr. Zorrilla, arrived in this city, having most successfully terminated the very delicate mission entrusted to him by the President. Those who are deeply read in Provincial politics are well aware that, but for the great tact and ability displayed by Dr Zorilla, as mediator between the rival political parties of Catamarca, we should in all probability have had a still greater rumpus in that province than in San Juan; but Dr Zorilla arrived up at Catamarca in the very nick of time, and by wisely avoiding any too demonstrative friendship with either side, he managed to win the confidence of both parties and offended the susceptibilities of none. Catamarca is now in the enjoyment of peace and order, and the compromise so ably effected by Dr Zorilla shews how easy it is to avoid revolution and bloodshed when the difficulty is taken in time, and men like Zorilla are named to act as mediators.

We all warmly welcome Dr Zorilla back to this city with well-earned laurels on his brow; and we are happy to note that the high appreciation of his services is taking the shape and form of a testimonial which he well deserves. An album is to be presented to him which will pass to his children as a fit tribute of respect for such valued services. To-morrow or next day we may have similar troubles in some of the provinces, and we all know now the man to send to arrange Provincial difficulties. Had we sent Dr Zorilla up to San Juan a month ago, Senator Gomez would be alive to-day and neither Governor or Vice-Governor be wounded on his bed. But fate has done her worst in San Juan and her best in Catamarca. Let us well profit by the experience. The Zorilla mission has saved the country treasure, blood and scandal, and we welcome back the mediator with the happy olive branch in his hand.

INSTITUTE FOR THE BLIND.

We have received from Madame Dolores Lavalle de Lavalle the following letters with request to publish them; and in complying with Madame's request we feel we may congratulate our fellow-countrymen that one of the noblest and most useful charitable institutions in this city is founded by the princely munificence of a whole-souled Scotchman.

It will be seen by the letters that Mr. Drysdale's donation to this institution is not limited to his gift of $2.000 stg., but that the incidental expenses of obtaining a master, furniture, piano, etc., have been all covered by him also.

Let us hope now that our Lord Mayor and his Municipality will not be outdone by Mr. Drysdale, and that fine, handsome well-located grounds will be added to Madame Pearson, the charming Presidentess of the Sociedad de Beneficencia, whereon to raise the building that is destined to shelter the blind. The Municipality has large fields and properties in Barracas. We should say that at least four or five squares will be needed for a proper Blind Asylum, as the blind will require more roomy grounds for exercise and air than other descriptions of patients. We trust the ladies will, therefore, be the fit attorneys of the poor blind, and plead in person before the Lord Mayor for large, roomy grounds, fit site for an institution so useful and charity so noble:—

B. Aires, Feb. 11th, 1884

To the Lady President of the
Sociedad de Beneficencia

Madam

A meeting with a young man, most intelligent, but deprived of sight and utterly destitute of instruction, first suggested to me the idea of founding a School for the Blind in this city. Ever since, I have constantly studied the best means of accomplishing this, and the cordial way in which my project has been received by the high society of this city convinces me that the moment for carrying it into effect has come.

It, therefore, gives me much pleasure to place in the hands of your Society the sum of 10,000 hard dollars, my contribution towards founding said School; on the double condition that it shall always remain under the direction of the Society, and that the money shall never be applied to any other purpose.

Your obdt. and faithful servant
Thomas Drysdale

B. Aires, Feb. 12th, 1884

Thomas Drysdale Esq.

Dear Sir

I have received your letter of yesterday, and I am happy to say that the Society of Beneficence will accept your generous donation of 10,000 hard dollars as a contribution towards founding a School for the Blind, it being your wish that the School shall always remain under the direction of the Society, and that the money be never applied to any other purpose.

Having laid your note before the members of the Society, I am charged by them to express their gratitude for such a munificent donation and for the honour you have done them in selecting them as the medium for realising your benevolent wishes.

The Society will do everything in its power to make the School, now a project, an accomplished fact; and you will have the satisfaction of linking your name with an institution new in our country, and which will so greatly ameliorate the condition of the unhappy blind amongst us.

Gratefully and sincerely yours
Isabel H. de Pearson

B. Aires, Feb. 18th, 1884

To Doña Isabel de Pearson
President of the Beneficent Society

Madam

This note is to let you know that, in accordance with your instructions, I have written to Mr Dann of New York, asking him to write to the Professor of the "Perkins Institute, and Mass. School for the Blind," to select a Professor and sub-Professor and the teachers that he may think necessary of both sexes; as also a music master.

I have also ordered the necessary furniture for the School and dwellings of the Professor and teachers, and likewise a piano, all of which I have ordered to be forwarded to Buenos Aires as speedily as possible. Allow me to add that the cost of the above is completely distinct from the promised donation of 10,000 dollars.

Your faithful servant
Thomas Drysdale.

Verses Written for the Blind Asylum, Liverpool, 1797.—The Liverpool School for the Blind was founded in 1791, and is the oldest institution of the kind in the world, excepting that of Paris. Though now situated in Hardman-street, it originally stood on the corner of Hotham-street, the principal frontage being in London-road. On the 1st of October, 1800, there were 65 persons in the school, who were taught the following different trades:—The men in weaving lobby-cloth, making rope bears (bear, an old Liverpool word for door mat); in manufacturing points and gaskets (points, small flat pieces of plaited cordage, used for the purpose of tying up the sail in the act of reefing; gasket, a piece of plaited stuff, to secure furled sails to the yard), in making baskets and hampers, in weaving window and clock-line. The women were employed in spinning yarn for linen cloth and for window and clock-line (Gore's "Directory" for 1800.) The following verses are taken from a little book, in my collection, entitled "English Lyricks—Liverpool, printed by J. M'Creery, and sold by Cadell and Davies, London, and Jones, Liverpool. 1797." (John M'Creery, printer, 6, Tyzer-street, Houghton-street; Samuel Crane, bookseller, 53, Castle-street. Gore's "Directory.") This is the first edition of the lyrics; the second edition, 1798, is in the Free Public Library; a third edition was published in 1806. The author of the lyrics was William Smyth, M.A., fellow and tutor of Peter House College, Cambridge.

FOR THE BLIND ASYLUM, LIVERPOOL.

Stranger, pause—for thee the day
Smiling, pours its cheerful ray,
Spreads the lawn, and rears the bower,
Lights the stream and paints the flower.
Stranger, pause—with soften'd mind,
Learn the sorrows of the blind;
Earth and seas, and varying skies,
Visit not their cheerless eyes.
Not for them the bliss to trace
The chisel's animating grace;
Nor on the glowing canvas find
The poet's soul, the sage's mind.
Not for them the heart is seen,
Speaking thro' th' expressive mien;
Not for them are pictured there
Friendship, pity, love sincere.
Helpless, as they slowly stray,
Childhood prints their careless way;
Or the wand exploring guides
Fall'ring steps, where fear presides.
Yet for them has Genius kind
Humble pleasures here assign'd;
Here, with unexpected ray,
Reached the soul that felt no day.
Lonely blindness here can meet
Kindred woes, and converse sweet—
Torpid once, can learn to smile
Proudly o'er its useful toil,
He who deigned for man to die,
Op'd one day the darken'd eye
Humbly copy—thou canst feel—
Give thine alms—thou canst not heal.

G. H. J,

P'ATAGONIAN EXPEDITION.

The following is an extract taken from a telegram sent by General Winter, to the Minister of War, referring to the Roa Expedition which left Chubut some 6 months ago with the object of exploring the Southern territory of Patagones. The expedition was composed of 85 men, 50 of which belonged to the 6th Regiment of Cavalry.

Comandante Roa has travelled over more than 270 leagues to the South of Viedma, meeting in his march Sahihuque, Inacayal, Foyes and Huincalao joined, and the other Caciques at the foot of the Andes, numbering in all some 300 fighting men, many of whom were armed with Spencer and Martini Henry rifles. The Indians were forewarned. They attacked our vanguard but were driven off, leaving 16 wounded; we having only two wounded, one rather badly. Unfortunately we were unable to follow them, owing to the smallness of our force, and the poor condition of our horses, which were then 6 months campaigning. Huincalao who cleared out in Nov. last from Choel-choel was informed that we were following him; he immediately made alliances with other tribes which in a great manner checked our movements. Comandante Roa has travelled two accumulators, two cylinders, 18 "diameter" the metal 2½ thick and both to the honour of the public and the Government as well as to Your Excellency's untiring zeal, in fact, to everything that is connected with the prosperity of the Nation.

AWFUL WRECK.

The New York Herald of Jan. 21st. gives an appalling account of the scenes attending the total wreck of the steamer City of Columbus on the New Bedford coast. The following are extracts from the dreadful tale:—

New Bedford, Jan. 20, 1884.

The awful feeling of gloom which has prevailed all along this part of the coast since the terrible disaster to the steamer City of Columbus seemed to grow more intense as this morning dawned and showed heavy banks of lowering clouds which seemed to hang over the entire coast like a funeral pall.

The streets were filled with people, who for two days had been rushing thither on every train in the hope of obtaining some intelligence concerning loved ones. There has been but little information to give to these anxious inquirers, as all of the bodies thus far brought ashore have been identified as quickly as they have been landed and then sent to their late homes. Very little business has been done here since the announcement of the disaster.

THE PURSER'S STATEMENT

The purser of the City of Columbus, William Spalding, has been partly deaf since the accident, and he is suffering from frozen limbs. Appended is his statement:—

"I was in my birth when the accident happened and awoke at the first shock. The steamer seemed to strike several times afterward. On my way from my berth I met Mr. Fuller, the first officer. My room was on the first deck. Fuller was at the port 'midship boat. We had seven metallic boats and a life-raft. All the cabin passengers were on the upper deck, while the steerage passengers were below. I said to Fuller, 'Where are we and what has happened?' He replied, 'We are on the Devil's Fence,' meaning, I suppose, the Devil's Bridge. I could plainly see the rocky coast and Gay Head light. The night was as clear as could be. I asked Fuller if he thought she would sink very deep, and his reply was that she would surely go down. I determined to arouse the passengers at once and made every effort to do so. I heard Fuller tell two passengers to go to the Social Hall. He visited the main staterooms and those on the port side. I rapped on each door.

GETTING OUT JUST IN TIME.

"Before I reached the last stateroom the steamer heeled over. I told the passengers, many of whom were in a very excited condition, to save themselves, as the steamer would undoubtedly go down. As she heeled I rushed through the cabin to the staircase on the port side, and I assure you I hard work to get through in season, as she began to settle very rapidly on her keel. On the weather side of the deck there were three or four passengers. We stayed there for a few moments. There was a terrible scene of confusion on the deck. Men and women, some with children in their arms, clambered up to the deck, clinging frantically to every available projection that offered resistance. They crowded upon each other so fast that they could not be counted as they rushed upon deck, only to be met by some monstrous wave and swept off into the sea. Groans, yells and curses contended with the fury of the gale; women shrieked and men shouted themselves hoarse. Men and women clutched each other regardlessly, shouting all the while and struggling with each other in frenzied attempts to secure every coign of vantage. But this soul-rending sight could not last long. Sea after sea swept over the ship, carrying off everything not made of iron. It had been blowing moderately when I retired, but now it was a hurricane. Still the moon shone brilliantly and the land was plainly visible. I saw Chief Steward Pitman on deck and told him to take to the rigging. I saw at this time eight or ten men hanging to the starboard rigging. I and the chief steward made our way to the rigging, going up on the inside, and we both reached the maintop. A passenger also accompanied me, but I cannot recall his name. As soon as the steamer struck she sank aft. She did not shift her position, but apparently slid off the rock."

At this point of the interview Mr. A. S. Bridge inquired of the purser if he had seen any of his friends, and he replied, "I saw your niece, Mrs. Atkinson. She went crazy soon after the vessel struck."

Many who were present at this interview were moved to tears, especially when it became known that the lady's father and mother—Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Belyea, of Woodstock, N. B.; her son, Wilmarth Atkinson, aged eight years, and her nephew, C. Merrill, aged eight years—were also drowned.

ONLY ONE BOAT LIVES.

"When she shifted," continued the purser, "the steamer settled. Wind was southwest—head on to the steamer—with a heavy sea rolling. I saw the life-raft. It was kept on the aft hurricane deck. When I first saw it in the water there were six or more persons on it. When the steamer heeled it was impossible, as you will readily see, to get to the boats on the port side. I saw one of the boats crushed to pieces. My boat known as the purser's boat, was the only one belonging to the steamer which saved a life or reached the shore. What became of the other boat I do not know, but I don't think it was launched. Two sailors, Quartermaster McDonald and two steerage passengers—James Brown and a man who I understood was Mr. [illegible]

MAP OF THE CHACO.

As will be seen by the following note, a reliable Map of the Chaco has been just finished, containing a resumé of all that explorations have given up to the present, and all due to the unexampled energy and labour bestowed on it by the Chief of the "Oficina C. de Tierras y Colonias.

Buenos Aires, Feb. 6th. 1884.

To H. E. the Minister of the Interior,
Dr. D. Bernardo de Irigoyen.

The letters and plans relating to the Chaco Territory as yet published were far from being sufficient for determining accurately the location of sites solicited. Repeatedly the limits set down by the interested parties did not figure in these papers, and just as frequently they seemed to encroach one on another, as far as could be judged by the positions of the most prominent points, streams, rivers, &c.; these had not been geographically projected, in fact only set down roughly as if on a tracing, without much regard for either distance or direction, so that nothing certain was possible in the absence of a survey of the Territory.

Your Excellency may remember that last year your attention was directed to this important point, and it was said that the Topographical Society was collecting all the data available for the compilation of an exact and reliable work that would make this territory thoroughly known. Now, in possession of particulars supplied by the most famed explorers and with every publication made on this head up to the present at hand, a complete Map has been drawn up that will be of the highest advantage in the future in considering all petitions for lands. It will be in fact an Official publication, on which all concessions will be grounded.

In fact, the positions of the Paraná, Paraguay, and many of their branches have been geographically settled, and many important errors on former publications corrected. The details have been set down with scrupulous care, several works being consulted on perhaps one point, to make everything harmonize, and even the verbal references of some of the settlers of that Territory have been found of use.

The tracing of the Bermejo is one of the minutest as to particulars and most complete of all yet published, since it is the result of the prolific explorations made by such renowned travellers as Sres. Peyen and Arnoz. These gentlemen courteously placed all their notes, data, &c., at the disposal of this office, doing this country a great service.

The National and private colonies show in their proper positions, now determined by survey; for this purpose use has been made of all the geographical data acquired at different times by various explorers, and lately by the surveyors. Thus all concessions, whether for renting or colonization purposes, in fact all concessions authorized, figure on the new Map.

The position also appears of the land ordered to be surveyed North of Las Toscas and Avellaneda colony, as also of the two sections measured out for agriculture on the right bank of the Bermejo.

This brief resumé will make patent the utility of the General Map of the Chaco, prepared by the Topographical Section of this office. It comprises data prolific and minute, hitherto unknown, containing besides important particulars referring to the adjoining Provinces.

These circumstances and the fact of the Map being constructed on such a scale as always to admit of any modification that may be necessary in the future, as, for instance, the addition of some concession that may hereafter be authorised, show how clearly and justly this Map can be used as an Official publication, on which all petitions and concessions must be grounded.

Accordingly, this department, not entertaining a doubt that Your Excellency would properly estimate at its due importance the work and labour expended, and the convenience that must result from such a publication, commissioned the Topographical draughtsman Don Alfredo Baigorri, who executed it, to take estimates of the cost of an edition of 1,500 copies. This gentleman has recommended that it be made on four different plates, which together will represent dimensions of 1 metre in breadth by a metre and forty centimetres in length, also that it be lithographed in five colours, for the better setting forth of the details, and bound in cloth for its better preservation and consultation; the expenses of such an edition would be $2,250 m/n.

In view of the above, therefore, this office begs of Your Excellency the usual authorization for the carrying out of said plan, and if granted, an order for the amount on the Treasury, to avoid all delay. Once finished and recognised as an Official Document, every copy can be disposed of at the almost insignificant price of $3 m/n., thus reimbursing the Treasury the sum advanced.

In this manner it will prove a positive

ROSARIO.

(From our own Correspondent.)

February 22nd.

The prosperity and rapid growth of Rosario are certainly not due to any official favour. While the capital, and the new city alongside, are absorbing enormous sums for buildings, ports, sewage and other improvements, and even such towns as San Nicolas, Santa Fe, Gualeguay, Bahia Blanca, and others are taken under official protection, the city and port of Rosario seem to be ignored completely. I believe it was under the administration of Mitre, nearly a score of years ago, that Congress voted the then magnificent sum of half a million of dollars for improving the port of Rosario. Thus, and the anticipation of the town becoming the Capital of the Republic, caused an inflation in the value of property, followed by a reaction that we are only recovering from within the last one or two years, for both Port Works and Capital were myths. All that the National Government has done for this town, whose Custom-House produces now upwards of three millions of dollars, has been the erection of a National College, a non-come-atable for the children of the town, and a building for the offices of the Custom-House, about one quarter the size it ought to have been. In the first case, as the Government was obliged by law to establish a National College in every principal town of the Republic, they could hardly leave this town out in the cold; and, as for the Custom-House, it was an absolute administrative necessity, and, consequently, no favour to the town. Of improvements that are the incumbency of the Provincial Government such as prisons, hospitals, churches, schools, public offices, &c., we have only one building to show, the Gefatura, a fair structure, raised in the epoch of Oroño, when the revenue of the province was about one-fifth of what it is at present. Since then not an official dollar has been spent, and yet there is no spot in the country where expenditure of official money would be more legitimate, for the Provincial Government to advance the material prosperity of a town that not only is a great credit to the province, and that will always be the second in the Republic, but that contributes an enormous proportion to the revenue of the Government. The claim Rosario has on the National Government is stronger still, were that possible. It is no favour that Rosario asks when she insists on the Port Works, National bonding warehouses and facilities for loading and discharging. Rosario will, of course, be greatly benefitted, but the works would be simply a profitable investment on the part of the Government.

There is not a town in the country that has been so systematically neglected by the National and Provincial Governments as Rosario. With the petty exceptions I have already mentioned, everything pertaining to the progress of the city has been the work of private enterprize. Even the hospital was built and is sustained by this community. The National Government does not possess a single wharf, nor the Provincial Government a single school-house in Rosario. Starting from Mr. Casado's wharf, about half a mile down the river, we pass the wharves of the Gas Works. Comas and Castella; no, that cannot satisfy a tenth part of the traffic. Then follows a long stretch of vacant shore, where vessels load and unload in the primitive fashion of olden times. This space belongs to the National Government, and ought to have been wharfed, docked and built over a dozen years ago. Then we come right up to the barracas, which rises perpendicularly from the water's edge, say 100 feet. When we reach the top we find a large barraca, with a tunnelled passage leading down to the wharf, with rails where goods are hauled up or let down to the river side, and a shoot by which hides and bales are shot down into the very hold of the vessel. Further on is Mr. Hall's grand barraca, which I have described in a former letter, where, besides roads cut down through the cliffs, and shoots, there are subterranean stores capable of holding a thousand pipes of wine. Then we enter the Central Railway Station, half a mile long, with the whole of its superficies densely packed with buildings and mountains of where a stationary engine is always at work, there are many steam cranes fixed to the edge of the cliff, that hoist up the cargoes of coal, lumber, &c., from the hold of the vessel. Following the station, we leave the Granary and Elevator, where the grain descends to a huge tunnel, the bottom of which is on a level with the wharf, presenting the greatest facilities for embarking cereals. Then follows Mr. Coffin's fine flour mill, also with facilities for loading and discharging. Walking on, we pass successively the shipping yards and wharves of Messrs. Jewell, Brothers, Ommarini, Godeken and others, and, lastly, we come upon a space on the barranca of several acres in extent, covered with the material for Messrs. Clark's Pacific Railway. Thus, for the space of some two miles of river frontage, private enterprize has laboured to facilitate the traffic of the port, while the centre part, in front of the Custom-House, and retained by the National Government, is vacant. However, we probably ought not to grumble. Had the Government works been made ten years ago, they would very likely have been in harmony with the then poverty of the country, whereas now, with the Congress vote of two millions, we may expect to have works worthy of the city of Rosario. Only, why the dickens don't they commence them? Nearly half a year has elapsed since the Executive was authorised to make them, and Mr. Irigoyen seemed to take a preferent interest in them. I understand the time has been spent in abortive surveys or wasted discussions. One good practical engineer would have settled the question in a week's study, but it appears that the one good practical engineer is an article the Government does not possess.

by the Chamber of Deputies.

It is not strange that an Englishman should take me to task about using the orthography rial, instead of real, to denote the Spanish value of 12½ cents. Still, if he had looked up Webster and the English Imperial and other Dictionaries, he would have found the obnoxious word staring him in the face. Curiously enough, in Edward VI. and Elizabeth's time, there was a gold coin called a real, and spelt so; probably a corruption of royal. The fact is, however, that all over the United States and Canada the old Spanish word real has been anglicised into riel, a fact that it is excusable for an Englishman, who may not have been in North America, to be ignorant of.

I remember the Standard having published a curious genealogy in proof of Queen Victoria's descent from King David, the Prophet Psalmist. This was a work first commenced by the Rev Mr. Glover, M.A., in his book, "England the remnant of Judah," but another Reverend (the name is ominously significant), has made out a what, at first glance appears to be a genuine document, although skeptical people might ask how the nineteenth descendant from David became King of Ireland. However, as pedigrees are so easily sought out, and genealogical trees made to order, for, after all, our common parents, Adam and Eve, are only separated from us by a few thousand years, why did not the Rev. Grimaldi make out a genealogical tree for Queen Victoria that might have been of service to her in these critical times. What good does Royal descent from that naughty and vindictive son of Jesse bring her. It would have been just as easy to have traced our good Queen's genealogy to Assor, the fifth King of the Twelfth Dynasty, the protector of Joseph, the powerful Pharaoh, who not only reigned over Lower Egypt, but also over the whole of the Soudan and Abyssinia, as a descendant from that mighty Potentate, Queen Victoria might quietly enter into possession of Egypt, and so solve the vexed question that is worrying the English nation and the G.O.M.

The mails for the Amazone close at noon to-day, not 1 p.m., as we said yesterday, forgetting that the sailing day was Sunday.

We wont see you again readers, or rather you wont see us, till next Thursday morning. We suppose you are sorry, but you can hardly expect us to be so. Three days' vacation is always something. Take care of yourselves during the Saturnalia.

The Patria Argentina's article yesterday on the Grand Old Man was very good and very true. If the Tories had won, it would have been bad for everybody, including this country.

Councillor Alencar, Brazilian Minister at Montevideo, has been transferred to the same post here. He is one of Brazil's most talented diplomatists.

We are requested to state that Divine Service with celebration of Holy Communion is held to-day, Sunday 24th, at Trinity Church, Lomas de Zamora, at 10 o'clock in the morning.

We must call our readers' attention to the grand Cricket Match at Palermo to-morrow and Tuesday, for which a special train will leave at 1 p.m. from Central Station to Palermo, returning at 1.25 p.m. The 12 noon ordinary train will stop at Palermo for the convenience of visitors to the ground. We expect a great concourse of English people at the match.

It appears that there are two Corsos this year. The South end of the city—where the girls are more domestic, more "criolla," not such flirts, and have larger families when they marry—is going in for a Carnival of its own, the Corso being along Calle Buen Orden from Victoria to Plaza Concepcion. A bewildering number of comparsas are ready for the fray, and Calle B. O. is nicely adorned. As for the aristocratic other ations, are only worthy of Donnybrook Fair in its declining days. There was a plavious look in the sky yesterday that threatened blue ruin to all the pomito dealers. However, let us hope for the best, although the parched camps want rain far more than our 'blazé' citizens require Carnival and its bad works and pomps.

Dr. Plaza, Finance Minister, has ordered the Master of the Mint to strike off at once the gold, silver, bronze and leather medals won at the Continental Exhibition. The Master, having no conveniences in the leather line, will, no doubt, get the medals of this kind from the nearest saddler.

The drought in the South is terrible. An Azul paper declares that, if it does not rain within a fortnigh', all the camps there will be ruined. The same colleague calls on the authorities to take instant measures, or the winter will be ruinous! What, in the name of common sense, have the authorities to do with the weather? If they could get at the Clerk of same, they might order him to be hanged, drawn and quartered; but he is not come-at-able and our Azul contemporary's demand is supremely Pickwickian.

A rich miser has a niece whom he proclaims to be his unique heiress, but who has never seen any of his money. "Your niece is twenty years old," says a friend; "you ought to do something toward getting her settled." "Well," replied the miser, after reflection, "I will pretend to be ill."

Dr. Plaza, and the Under Secretary of the Finance Department, D. Emilio Hansen, took the train to the Boca on Friday and had a look at the Riachuelo Port Works. His Excellency was very much satisfied with what he saw.

Governor Roach is determined to push La Plata ahead "ruat coelum." Many people now regret that they did not buy land plots there; but quite as many shake their heads and refuse to believe in the new capital. On Friday the first Municipality of the new capital was duly installed, Mr Bernard Calderon being named Mayor—not Lord Mayor—as only the Chief Magistrate of a metropolis can have that title. Better call him Provost, as Mr. Calderon is, we hear, of Scotch descent, the original family name having been Cameron. In this conviction, we cordially salute Mr Cameron as the first Provost of La Plata.

It is a difficult thing for a dog without a tail to show his master how much he thinks of him.

There was nothing very fresh yesterday in the political line from either St. John or St. Faith Provinces. We suppose they were up to their eyes in preparing for Carnival, and, in this country, the "Pomito" is stronger even than Politics at this season of the year.

The public here are intensely feminine and childish. What do you think is the latest proposal in the self-titled "leading journal" in order to bring the Tramway Companies that have not reduced their fares to five cents to their senses (cent-es)? That every "hijo de vecino" who hails a tram, be he in the "sere and yellow leaf," or "the whining schoolboy, with his satchel," etc., shall insist on its coming to a standstill, (instead of jumping on to it in motion, as all young fellows now do) in order that by the delay thus caused, the cars may not be able to get to their journey's end so quickly, and the Companies be thereby injured! What utter stuff to find insertion in a newspaper!

Chance and Fortune are queer jades. Since we began to call attention to the long run of luck attending the high numbers in the Capital Lottery, low numbers have won the big prices three weeks in succession. In yesterday's Lottery, Number 4,645 won the 10,000 Nats. prize.

Commodore Py, the oldest naval officer in the Argentine service, died on Friday afternoon at the Tigre; he was 59 years of age, and in the service since the time of Rosas. The veteran was attacked with apoplexy while in the National workshops, and was at once taken to his residence, but medical skill could do nothing for him, and he expired in half an hour. The remains arrive in town to-day, and the National Squadron has been ordered to pay them the usual honours.

Well done old horse! The horse-shoe does not bring luck when applied by the horse. At Azul the other day, a brutal Italian carter was torturing one of his team, when the maddened animal let fly with his heels and smashed in the chest and heart of his savage tormentor, killing him on the spot. We recommend every horse in the country to do the same thing when tortured.

The Washington anniversay ball and banquet on board the United States war vessel Nipsic on Friday was a magnificent affair. Most of the leading American families in town were present, but General Osborn and Consul Baker being absent in the camp, were missed by their countrymen on such an auspicious occasion. Rear Admiral Cordero, Port Prefect Mansilla, and many other Argentine naval officers were present in "full fig." At night, when the dancing began, the Nipsic was illuminated with coloured lamps etc., from truck to traffrail, and the effect was superb. The guests did not get back to town till that time of the morning known as "all hours".

The Royal mail steamer Neva arrived at Montevideo yesterday, but there was some delay about landing the mails, and the evening papers had no telegrams with her news.

A curious telephonic mistake occurred yesterday morning and had the effect of giving the police an electric shock, as they understood that the Knights of the Night had made another attempt to steal a fashionable corpse from the Recoleta Cemetery. A man coming from San Fernando lost 18

John Bright threw a bucket of the ed to be allowed to telephone to the Policia. How it turned out that the police supposed that a corpse instead of 18 nats, had been stolen is sufficiently explained by the fact that the 'individuo' from San Fernando had had his brains stolen, very early in the morning, by the god Bacchus.

We beg to call the attention of the Society for the B. P. of C. T. A. to the following incident. There surely must be some means of punishing, or at least reprimanding, the culpable parties. In changing horses at the Central Tramway Station, Chile and Santiago del Estero, the passengers all to a man protested against one poor animal being brought into requisition. The poor brute was literally on his last legs and was unable to move. Protests, however, had no effect on the "mayoral," who only replied with insult. Several of the passengers then got down and went to interview the manager, who promised redress but gave none, and the car started with the same team. One of the passengers then applied to the nearest Comisario, who voted it a nuisance but declared his inability to interfere. He recommended an appeal to the above-mentioned society, and we sincerely hope they will see their way to doing something in the matter. Every comisario in the city should be a member of the Society.

H.M.S. Amethyst, which has been two years on this station, left yesterday for the Falkland Islands.

A professor was expostulating with a student, when the latter said:—"It's no use; I was cut out for a loafer." "Well," declared the professor, "whoever cut you out understood his business."

The following members are said to have won in the San José Lottery yesterday:—

We are pleased to learn of Mr. Latham's great success in raising the "abonos" for the ensuing season. No end of young fellows subscribed to "tertulias," doubtless lured by the expectation of the return of Miss Arden and the facilities offered by the Empresario. Subscriptions are payable five months' from date of signing, by putting by six dollars m/c per day for that time, an 'abono' is purchasable. We understand that there are fourteen boxes already subscribed for.

A bear broke into the house of a Nevada miner the other night. He was away, and his wife thought he had come home inebriated. She did not wait to light a lamp, but began operations at once. When the bear finally got away, it is said that he did not stop running till he had travelled eight miles into the heart of the mountains, and he was such a sight that the other bears would not associate with him.

"LA PATRIA"

Strength and Fragrance

Clean unbroken leaf, free from dust and mixture

Guaranteed always the same

Because we contract year by year for our exclusive account the produce of the same gardens in CHINA.

For many years the principal dealers both in town and camp, have sold none but the LA PATRIA brand, an eloquent proof of the satisfaction it gives to their customers. The annoyance and inconvenience which they formerly suffered, when they bought other teas (sometimes of good quality and sometimes totally useless) is thus done away with.

A package of "PATRIA" tea although it is sold for 4d lbs contains 50 lbs. net of tea.

Protection against Fraud

See that the box has not been opened. If the lead has been cut it is an almost certain proof that it does not contain the genuine article. Those who fill with inferior tea the empty boxes bearing our brands, generally do it at the bottom, leaving the lid and the lead intact, so as the more readily to deceive purchasers.

Ask for PATRIA tea and see that you get the genuine article.

Any person purchasing tea which we cancelle should make objects with grocer.

CONAC MARTELL
AND HENNESSY
Importado por Parry y Ca.

IMPORTANT NOTICE—Every bottle of our imports of these brands bears our Red and White label.

Parry & Co.

Beg to caution the public that the Trade Marks of many of the Firms they represent are Pirated, and by this means Spurious and Worthless goods are foisted on purchasers, instead of the Genuine articles.
The Sham labels are wonderfully well got up to fulfil their nefarious mission.
Some of them bear a forgery of manufacturer's signature, others have apocryphal signatures, one or two letters being altered in so artistic a manner as almost to defy detection. Whilst many bear No Name whatever, but in general appearance closely resemble authentic labels.
We are determined to spare no efforts with a view to stopping the nefarious and dishonest practice of RE-FILLING EMPTIES, which is carried on to a shameless extent. This not only ruins the reputation of articles which are nutritious and conducive to good health, but the adulterated and unwholesome substitute a poison the blood and develope disease in those who consume them.
The following are some of the most notable instances in which this audacious swindle is commonly perpetrated, viz:—

TEAS

Those who re-fill with inferior mixtures the empty boxes bearing our registered brands of FINE TEAS, do so generally at the bottom, leaving the lid and top lead intact, so as the more readily to deceive purchasers.

Stout, Ale, Brandies, Hollands, Angostura, Lea & Perrins' Sauce, Clarets, Ports, Sherries, Schnapps, Whisky, Rum, Old Tom, &c.

Very many who despatch drinks by the glass buy the genuine articles, and after using the contents of one or two bottles (leaving the remainder of their purchase on the shelf for adornment and to induce the belief that they deal in first class goods) re-fill them as required with CHEAP, and often, obnoxious substitutes.
There are others WHO MAKE A TRADE of collecting empty bottles and cases of the articles enumerated, which are then used for putting up spurious and deleterious mixtures to be foisted on the public as legitimate productions.
We are at all times ready to give information to dealers who may be in doubt as to the legitimacy of any article purporting to be the product of any of the manufacturers whose attorneys we are, and whose Trade Marks we have registered.

Cedulas A	100½
Cedulas E	87
Cedulas F	84½
National Bank Shares ...	129½

The market opened this morning heavy for Cedulas, notwithstanding the appearance in the papers of the long talked of notice by the Bank of the payment of the coupons in Europe. As is ever the case in this market the affair was overspeculated on, and the market declined to-day in the face of the very notice which for the last six months the brokers have been speculating on. A leading Portuguese broker, a large holder of Cedulas, who is about to return to the sunny banks of the Tagus, entered the Bolsa at 2 p.m. and stated that he had been to the Bank and arranged everything, the coupons to be paid to his banker in Europe at an exchange of 5.10 fls. or 4.93 m/n. We suppose this settles everything, and now parties leaving for Europe and holding Cedulas can see their way clear in the matter. Cedulas, however, ruled duller than ever today, and we note some very strong men bearing the stock. At one time in the day Series E broke from 87 and sold down to 86¾, and Series F sold cash at 84½. People who owe Cedulas on their property, and their name is legion, stand back from the market watching the growing tightness of money telling on the stock.

National Bank Shares wear a wishy-washey aspect, and spite of all the money said to be taken up for the end of the month to carry the stock, there is a feverish feeling in the market. The plain truth is the whole market has changed wonderfully within the last fortnight; money is cash day tighter, exchange that looked sprightly enough at the beginning of the week is as flat as a pancake to-day, owing to the large taker in the market, and at all the private banks there is a strong demand for money for legitimate business purposes. This causes a shrinkage in stocks, and a lot down at the ring.

The following were the sales at the ring during official hours:—

Cedulas—
For cash E 7,100 at 87½-87
For Feb. 29th E 120,000 at 87-86¾-87
For March 31st E 270,000 at 87½-¾
For cash F 13,200 at 84½
Sales, 410,300

National Bank Shares—
For cash 200 at 129½
For Feb. 29th 1,100 at 129½-½-½
Sales, 1,300.

The Liebnitz cleared yesterday with full cargo. Three of Lamport and Holt's steamers overdue and with gold on board.

Exchange closed for the mail so, so. The Banks have, it seems, at last done taking; bills offered at 47 5/16, but no takers under ⅜; francs offered and passed at 5.01-2 and 3 but houses that refused to draw yesterday offered to draw to-day. One leading exchange broker offered the National Bank 600,000 francs, but the business was not done.

The R. M. S. Neva is in; also the German s.s. Rio from Hamburg, mails to-night by the Villa del Salto.

In the North wool market this morning there was great fuss about a leading exporter and barraquero entering the deposits dressed in the pink of fashion, refusing to look at any wool owing to his limits being reduced seven per cent. The arrivals of wools from the camp show a falling off against last week. Lambs wool in great demand at 50 to 57.

Mr Oscar Bennest was welcomed on 'Change on his arrival from his estancia at Lincoln: he reports camps splendid out there. Mr. Taylor, C. E. returns next week from Pocitos, having re-let his cottage there.

At afterhours very little done in stocks, but a very heavy business in payments; all the tables crowded, and the barraqueros and 'artistas' up to their eyes in checks and accounts. It would seem that there has been a heavy movement in every description of produce during the week. Cedulas closed flat at 87½, and Shares 129½, sellers all round. National Bank certificates much firmer than the shares, 100 sold at 140.

Messrs Tallaforo and Sanches's auction establishment was crowded to-day, and Mr Quesada was welcomed again into the yard. These auctioneers have an important auction on 9th prox. of cows, sheep, etc.

A very heavy business was done this afternoon in what is termed passing shares, 1¼ paid freely, and the stock generally passed over 125 to 126¾, holder receiving dividend.

Crowds of Bolsa men leave to-day for Montevideo and the camp; some go to the Ligre for a 3 day's pull up the Parana.

With pleasure we announce the starting of another colony in this province; the founders leave by first train in morning to arrange the business; the land for the colony sold on time at 40,000 pats. per league.

The Toro cleared to-day for Patagones, she had to leave 200 tons cargo behind. Several Englishmen have gone to Rio Negro in her to join the expedition to the South Andes.

Commander Roa's expedition to the unexplored camps south of Rio Negro has proved a brilliant success, and this will lead to the colonizing and settling of the magnificent camps in the Balchets valley. Several Welsh families we hear, have availed of the Government offers at Pueblo Roca, on the Rio Negro, and have taken chacras from the Government on the new canal; the Government pays each family 20 m/n per month, and supplies them with beef rations for the first year, offers so very favorable that we believe, if these terms were more generally known, hundreds of families would at once start for there; the main difficulty is to get there, as from Patagones to Roca is a long pull.

Nothing done yesterday in the Senate about moving the Banks. We suppose no quorum.

The telegrams from Europe to-day are most confounding and conflicting, and reflect great blame on the source from whence they came. Yesterday Havas announced the Mahdi's troops defeated at Tokar, now the news is that the false prophet has taken that place and worse still that the Egyptians have evacuated Khartoum. It is very hard to credit such conflicting news, particularly as it comes from Paris, where a week ago they had the news that Chinese Gordon was beaten and done up. If the news in to-night be true then it is the worst we have got as yet from that doomed land Soudan, as Khartoum was to be defended to the last and Tokar was actually reinforced.

Mr. Lawson is now paying the shareholders of the Transandine Telegraph Company their 26th dividend. We have no gold paying stock in this market that can beat this stock in its dividends to its shareholders. The following is the statement handed the shareholders in this market on the payment of the dividend:—

319 shares at 250 Chilian pesos each.....	79,750
6 o/o dividend	$ 4,785.00
$4,785 Chilian sold in Valparaiso at exchange of 33¾d in a bill on London at 90 days sight.....	£672.17.10

1 o/oo brokerage....	$n 3.40
Printing, &c.	$n16.75
	54.15
	$n3,345.72

EDITOR'S TABLE

The Oeste of Mercedes has a very interesting and complimentary article on he flax and machinery for preparing it on Mr Nicholas Lowe's fine estancia there. Mr Lowe has the best straw-burning machinery and finds it a great economy.

Another duel between two lawyers was spoken of yesterday as probable—cause some row about an invitation for a family to one of the Club balls. We hope the limbs of the law won't go out to murder each other; in fact, apprehended duels between lawyers rarely come off; not so when soldiers, sailors, or editors are concerned, when a mortal combat to the roots of the hair is too often the result.

Lamothe was removed to the Penitentiary yesterday. When entering the gate he said to the man in charge of him "Quien sabe" how long I may have to remain in this precious hole?"

The Provisional Committee of the St. Patrick's Day Ball request us to state that the idea of giving the entertainment has been abandoned.

The court-martial held on Major Cola and Lieutenant Estrada has declared as follows: "That the latter gentleman be completely exonerated from all blame, and the former be dismissed from the service." In the indictment, not, only his dismissal but two years' imprisonment was demanded, and we believe the latter was commuted solely owing to the brilliant manner in which he was defended by Comandante Waldones.

The Cronica gives a complete list of everything that will be doing during Carnival. An infinity of balls with multitudes of invitations issued, directions for the Corso, &c.

The Progreso give their balls on Tuesday and Saturday, the Club del Plata to-morrow and Saturday, and the Club Buenos Ayes on Saturday only. All gave balls last night.

The Democrata of yesterday was very severe on the "Collective Intellectuality" for allowing itself to be defeated by the foreign Tramway Companies—"et tu Brute!"—by Lacroze. The C. I. is pumped out, so there is no earthly use in trying to "animar" it for another round. It has thrown up the sponge, after having raised the "poncho"

We hear that Captain Fairfax R. N. who was formerly so popular here as senior officer of the station, will shortly pay a private visit of pleasure to the Plate; he is not on active service at present.

Edmond Abont has been elected a member of the French Academy.

The other day a barrister was addressing the jury in the Sessions Court, Birmingham, on behalf of a prisoner, when, having worked himself up to an inappreciable degree of intensity and perspiration, he delivered himself somewhat as follows: Gentlemen, after what I have put before you, is the man at the bar guilty! Can he be guilty! is he guilty!" To the astonishment of the assistant-barrister and the disgust of the learned advocate, the foreman of the jury shouted out in a loud key, "we'll tell you just now, sir. if you'll only wait a bit."

ENGLISH DRAMATIC SEASON

AUGUST, SEPTEMBER, OCTOBER, 1884

THE undeniable success of his recent venture places the Manager, not only in possession of most useful experience and knowledge of the Taste of the Buenos Airean Public, but, further, gives him Confidence for the Future, and enables him to form Plans of far Greater Magnitude than he felt justified in doing when he was but entering upon a field of speculation, with discouraging prophecies from every quarter.

He realizes that the Public wants High-Class Comedies of the 'Byronic' Style, and occasionally a good Spectacular Drama, (such as those lately given at the Opera House) with one or two specimens of the Romantic School of Play, now so much in vogue in London ('Silver King,' 'Lights of London,' 'Youth,' etc); and, further, that the excellence of those works must be guaranteed by sound London reputation.

It is worthy of remark that during the past season, those plays having familiar titles, drew larger audiences than even far better productions the names of which were unknown in Buenos Aires

Experience teaches the Manager to provide good Scenic Display and Lavish Adornment of the Stage for Every Production, and whilst claiming to have expended large sums in the Setting and Appointing of Drawing-Room Comedies during his first season, he now Receives to Eclipse all Former Efforts, and, indeed, Promises every Play in a manner worthy of the best Theatres in London.

For this purpose he will bring Handsome Furniture and Appointments from the Hotel Universe of Lyons & Co of London, and Exquisite Costumes from the most reputed Metropolitan Houses.

The great difficulty which has been encountered to give English plays appropriate setting with Italian opera decorations will now be completely obviated, for, in addition to a good supply of scenery at present being prepared in London, a competent artist will be engaged to paint special scenes for characteristic productions.

The past guarantees the future' is a motto that the public will allow is perfectly justifiable, for if, amidst the most bewildering difficulties, Mr. Latham was enabled to manage his theatre for three months with uninterrupted success, producing in that time thirty different plays, he is now entitled to hope from the public further confidence for the future, when the advantages of capital, experience and faith in support, will give him facilities for serving the community, which he will turn to the best account.

Agents are even now actively engaged in securing for the management the very latest London successes, and entering into negotiations with several well known artistes, Mr. W. Sessler having left for England with full authority to close engagements commenced by the agents.

The difficulty in securing a tenor worthy of Buenos Aires (it is a notorios fact that the foreign population of cities is always most critical) will probably retard the production of the Gilbert and Sullivan operas, but if postponed for a short period the, will be reserved for a very auspicious season, viz., the opening of an entirely English Theatre in our midst, (the site for which has already been negotiated), and which Mr. Latham trusts to dedicate to public service during the forthcoming year.

Finally: Aided by the good wishes and friendly concourse of the public at large, and having the hearty cooperation of many wealthy and influential residents, not onely among the English, but also among the French, Belgian and Argentine population, Mr. Latham with perfect confidence, announces inauguration of his second season for the

Friday, August 1st 1884

The Company consisting of Seventeen Competent Artistes, viz:

SEVEN LADIES AND TEN GENTLEMEN

(Exclusive of working staff and orchestra.)

The manager notes with great satisfaction that very many of the first subscribers have requested their guarantees for the ensuing season, and begs to inform the general public that he will shortly be prepared to book new subscribers at fifteen per cent reduction in the price of the thirty performances, former terms holding good to original 'abonados.'

Subscriptions payable on the arrival of the Company, early in May.

Mr. Latham leaves Buenos Aires on or about the 15th proximo, thus securing ample time in England.

Dear Sirs,

At a fire that occurred lately in Cordoba station, when a large pile of sleepers was set on fire by the shunting engine, the 'Rapid' fire Extinguishers supplied by you did most valuable service, and it was through their excellent work that the company was saved from a loss of 50 to 60,000 dollars.

I herewith enclose an order for four more.

Yours faithfully
